Bowling In An Abaya: An American Teacher's Memoir From Yemen

Synopsis

Bowling in an Abaya: An American Teacher's Memoir from Yemen is the story of an English teacher's life-changing assignment in Yemen. Her experiences open up a small window into Arab culture, reminding us of the personal growth that inevitably occurs when we have the courage to accept both the challenge and inspiration of unfamiliar territory. As Marisa's work finds her in front of hundreds of Yemeni students, the majority of whom are veiled, she realizes that like the identities of these women, the nuances of Yemeni culture are also hidden. It is only with time and patience that these subtleties and her own internal quest for meaning and purpose are revealed.

Marisa G. Garcia began her professional career in advertising, but after nearly a decade, she transitioned into the field of education. It wasn't long into her career that she realized the global appeal and travel opportunities associated with being an English teacher. Her assignment in 2007 in Yemen was her first international teaching position. She continues to be a teacher, student and traveler.

A fascinating personal experience in a different culture. The more we know about the diverse cultures in this world, the better off we are to connect with them. Marisa Garcia is observant and thoughtful in her writing.

Marisa shares her very personal adventure about risk taking and living outside ones comfort zone.

She ventures to a very different part of the world in order to make a difference, seeking to educate women and helping them to create opportunity in their lives. By trying to assimilate into a contrastive culture, she learns a great deal about herself and the universal human qualities that bind us all.

Miss Crocker shares her unique Perspective and experience while living and working in an Islamic nation as a single, Christian, American woman. Quick, touching, educating, spiritual read.
